REFLECTIONS

There is a time for everything and a season for each activity under Heaven' chapter 3 Ecclesiastes. I thought of this as I started to write this reflection, summer is nearly over and autumn almost beginning, one of my favourite seasons.

The colours in the trees, the fruits and berries on the shrubs, the garden looks mellow, there's a new term at school, or a new job to go to. Every season brings new beginnings, a time to take stock of our lives. Autumn to me should be a time to rest. This time it will be one of preparation a busy time. Like many other people I will need to remind myself of the poem-

Leisure by W H Davies

What is this life if full of care we have no time to stand and stare- so that I can make time to stand back and enjoy the beauty of the changing seasons.

Sarah says she is going to make me do it.

A huge thank you to our Master-chef Lee Rowan for all he did to make the BBQ on Saturday such a success.
For grilling many a burger and sausage, and for creating the fabulous cocktail The Parish Share.
Thanks also to Duncan James, who expertly served the food as it arrived hot off the grill.
An amazing choice of desserts provided by our talented ladies, finished off a superb evening, thank you.

VACANCY

There is a vacancy for a foundation governor at St James. It's an interesting worthwhile post and while it is not onerous some commitment has to be given during term time. If you feel that this is a way you can serve the community please speak to

Graham Jones or Sue Turner

COFFEE MORNING

September Coffee Morning was a busy day and raised

£426.05 before expenses

Thank you to all who provided cakes and helped.

We are looking for more volunteers to provide cakes and help to keep this being its usual success. There is the usual sign up sheet at back of church, or speak to Ginny, Joy or Pam. Please volunteer to help many hands make light work. You don't have to commit to every month or even a full morning. We need to keep this event going as our donation each month is vital to the church.
